

DEAN'S WELCOME

Hello and Happy New Year!

My name is Dona Schneider, Acting Dean of the University College Community (UCC). I am also Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Programs at the Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy, and wear several other hats. Using my UCC hat, I want to offer a heartfelt Rutgers welcome to our new adult and nontraditional students. I also want to welcome back our continuing on and off-campus students.

UCC is aware that adult and nontraditional students must meet various responsibilities at home and at work while making extra efforts to reach their academic goals. We also know the value of successfully completing a college degree, not just in financial terms, but also in terms of personal satisfaction and social development. Our ongoing goal at UCC is to support adult and nontraditional students because we know that they face significant non-academic responsibilities that make their college years very different from the traditional college experience. The life experiences of adult and nontraditional students also enrich our classrooms, bringing depth to the learning experience for all.

UCC strives to make sure that adult and nontraditional students are informed of important developments, events, resources, services, dates, and major and minor programs that are available evenings, weekends, and online. We also help guide nontraditional students to vital web information to enhance their time at Rutgers University in a more effective and efficient manner. In addition, UCC advocates for nontraditional students inside the larger Rutgers University community by recommending policies and programs to meet their specific needs. We sit on university-wide and campus task forces, as well as on campus-wide committees dealing with student life and transfer issues.

In the last few months, we have participated in adult recruitment, orientations, transition programs, and Veteran outreach initiatives, to name a few. We are especially proud of our administrative contributions to the formation of the degree completion programs designed specifically for adult, nontraditional students. These include the School of Management and Labor Relations' Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Labor & Employment Relations, and the Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy's Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Health Administration, Public Health, Public Policy and Urban Planning and Design; Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Planning and Public Policy. We are currently discussing adding additional majors and hope to be able to announce those by the end of this year.

Through our continued research, collaborations, and advocacy, we remain committed to developing and marketing adult-friendly programs to attract adult and nontraditional students. Our overarching goal is to create a sense of community for those students who do not live on campus and who have significant responsibilities outside of academia. We hope you will help us in this regard by referring other adult and nontraditional students to UCC so we can help them achieve their goals, as well.

Sincerely,

University College Community has moved to their new location:

DOUGLASS BUNTING FOR WOMEN AT RUTGERS

The Mary I. Bunting Program was established in 1958 by Mary I. Bunting, to provide individualized advising and support services for mature women enrolled full-time or part-time at Rutgers-New Brunswick. Students are eligible to affiliate with UCC and the Douglass Residential College Bunting Program. For more information, contact:

STUDY TIPS FOR NONTRADITIONAL STUDENTS

Developing study skills is a concern for working adults returning for a new semester. Experts say that people learn more by reflecting on what they are learning rather than by simply memorizing it. Try keeping an ongoing "reading journal" to record thoughts on the material and note questions it raises. When you go back to review your notes, you'll find new connections to current material and possibly new ways of looking at your subject. Click for source.

RECREATION CLASSES

Balancing life and academics can be difficult, but not impossible. Make time for some healthy fitness choices by visiting one of the many Rutgers Recreation Centers. See individual course descriptions for start dates. This term's classes are listed on the Rutgers Recreation website, but new classes continue to be added. Making time for your health leads to better academic performance.

RU LOOKING FOR EMPLOYMENT?

The Student Employment Office (SEO) in the Office of Financial Aid (OFA) administers two federally-funded, part-time employment programs to currently-enrolled Rutgers students: The Federal Work Study Program (FWSP), and the Job Location and Development Program (JLDP). The FWSP, which is awarded by the OFA to students who demonstrate financial need, offers part-time, on-campus jobs in University offices, departments, and schools, and offers off-campus jobs for area non-profit organizations and agencies, and government offices. The JLDP, which has no eligibility requirements and is open to all currently-enrolled Rutgers students, offers part-time and seasonal on-campus jobs in fields such as advertising, business, education, graphic design, healthcare, information technology, law, and many more. For information, please visit studentwork.rutgers.edu or visit the SEO at 620 George Street, Records Hall, Room 140, College Avenue Campus.

RETURN TO LEARN

A Rutgers diploma is an internationally recognized credential. We're extremely proud of the many alumni who are leaders in the arts, sciences, engineering, and humanities. Rutgers' 360,000 living alumni are an impressive worldwide community. As an alumnus, you'll also be eligible to use our Career Services office—even after you graduate!

In an effort to continue building this worldwide community, the University has launched a pilot program Targeting former students who left Rutgers prior to earning their undergraduate degree. If you know someone interested in returning to Rutgers, please direct them to <http://ucc.rutgers.edu/return-to-learn> or have them contact University College Community at ucc@rutgers.edu

DNA DISCOVERY, BALANCING WORK AND LIFE

Be inspired by a woman most would say achieved it all. Evelyn M. Witkin was destined to be revered. Her passion for justice; desire of education; love of research and her commitment to balancing work and family life has led her to a recognition she modestly accepts. Read this New York Times interview with Dr. Witkin, a retired Rutgers professor and pioneer in genetics. Find out her secret to success as a woman scientist early to the field of genetics.

NJ-STEP AND MOUNTAINVIEW, PERFECT TOGETHER

Adult learners know all too well the importance of second chances in life and opportunity, especially in higher education. Life seen through an impressionable 18 year-old's life can drastically be altered after years of experiences—good or bad— which develops into a level of maturity and motivation needed to succeed. The Rutgers University Mountainview Program is that second chance and also the final piece within the NJ-STEP educational pipeline. The Mountainview Program identifies, recruits and supports the most accomplished students from the NJ-STEP student body in gaining admission to Rutgers University. Once recruited and admitted to Rutgers, the staff offers on-going, dynamic support and guidance in earning a Rutgers degree while managing the reentry process.

In addition to the plethora of staff and units that contribute to those processes, this includes significant contributions from our state and federal opportunity programs (EOE, TRIO and others) falling under the vision of Student Access and Educational Equity within the Office of Undergraduate Academic Affairs.

Mountainview students have earned countless merit scholarships over the past few years. Recently, two program participants earned back-to-back the prestigious Harry S. Truman Scholarship. These were the first Truman recipients at Rutgers in over a decade.

BLOUSTEIN SCHOOL ADDS 5th DIRECT ADMIT BACHELORS PROGRAM

As one of the strongest policy schools in the nation, the Bloustein School has the capacity to address local, state, regional, national and international policy and planning issues with expertise and credibility. The School is a leader in such areas as smart growth, transportation planning, workforce development, and environmental health, and builds on its association with research centers in related areas. The newly approved Urban Planning and Design (971D) addresses urban planning as the process concerned with the use of land and design of the urban environment, including air, water, and infrastructure networks. It guides and ensures the orderly development of communities, and concerns itself with research and analysis, strategic thinking, policy recommendations, implementation, and management. Urban Design is the process by which cities, towns, and villages are shaped, with the goal of making urban areas functional, attractive, and sustainable. It unites all the built environment professions, including urban planning, landscape architecture, architecture, civil and municipal engineering, and focuses on the design, quality, character and appearance of places.. OUR 250th ANNIVERSARY

Rutgers' year of celebration has officially commenced on Charter Day, November 10, 2015, with a colonial-themed outdoor festival on the lawn of Old Queens in New Brunswick opened to the entire university community. Amid kettle fires, music, food, displays, a Rutgers film premiere and many interactive activities, the festivities culminated in a one-minute community bell ringing, heralding our anniversary year. Want to stay up to date on our continuing events and celebrations—and participate in them? This is the place to learn about the 250th anniversary as the plans continue. Visit: <http://250.rutgers.edu/>

OWN A PART OF RUTGERS HISTORY

The 250th Anniversary Book. In honor of Rutgers 250, the university has published a commemorative coffee-table book, Rutgers: A 250th Anniversary Portrait. Historical materials have been gathered and the 250th Anniversary Book is available, and professors, students, and staff members have worked tirelessly on a schedule of festivities, symposia, and other events.
